DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/15/2007 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 3, 5 – 11, 14, 16 – 22, 25, 27 – 33, 37, and 39 – 45 are allowable.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Independent claim 3, when considered as a whole, is allowable over the art of record. Specifically, prior art of record fail to clearly teach or suggest the claimed limitation of: providing an on-line, interactive network site including a personalized network page from which a user can customize and personalize specifications for a three-dimensional achievement recognition item, wherein the personalized network page includes a pre-populated list of one or more achievements attained by the user, any of which the user can select for customizing and personalizing the achievement recognition item and producing the achievement recognition item in accordance with user-selected specifications.

The Storey patent (US 6,578,012) teaches an online, interactive network site including a personalized network page that allows a user to select products to receive as awards based on a specific number of points a user has achieved. However, the Storey patent does not disclose that said personalized network page includes a pre-populated list of one or more achievements attained by a user, any of which the user can select. The user of Storey's invention does not select an achievement they have attained; they only select products they may order once they have achieved a specific number of points.

In addition, the Storey patent does disclose that an award, or achievement-recognition item, may be customized, wherein it has been interpreted that specifying a size or color is equivalent to customizing. However, the Storey patent does not explicitly disclose that an award, or achievement-recognition item, may be personalized in addition to being customized.

The Williams patent application (US 2004/0250202 A1), discloses a system for selecting awards which may list awards to create and give to others. However, Williams's invention is for giving awards to others, and does not allow a user to select an achievement of said user from a personalized network page for customizing and personalizing an achievement recognition item. In addition, there is no motivation that users would want to select an achievement they have attained to order an achievement recognition item for themselves.

The "Successories.com" and "ePromos.com" websites, cited in the PTO-892 of correspondence mailed on 12/22/2006, allow a user to customize and personalize an achievement recognition item. However, neither includes a personalized network page that includes a pre-populated list of one or more achievements attained by the user.

Independent claim 14 is a system for implementing the method of independent claim 3, and is allowable for the same reasons that independent claim 3 is allowable.

Independent claim 25 is an article for implementing the method of independent claim 3, and is allowable for the same reasons that independent claim 3 is allowable.

Independent claim 37 is a method for using the method of independent claim 3, and is allowable for the same reasons that independent claim 3 is allowable.

Dependent claims 5 – 11, 16 – 22, 27 – 33, and 39 – 45 further add limitations to the allowable subject matter of the corresponding independent claims, and thus are also allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
